(b) Dual currency investments are subject to foreign exchange fluctuations which may affect the return of your investment. The returns on your structured deposit will be affected by the performance of the underlying asset/reference, and the recovery of your principal may be jeopardised if you make an early redemption. Provided that the whole amount of the Principal Amount is held with the Bank up to the Maturity Date, 100% of the Principal Amount shall be guaranteed and payable by the Bank to the investor on the Maturity Date.

Where any forecast on the economy, stock market, bond market and economic trends of the markets is indicated, it should be noted that such forecast is not necessarily indicative of the future or likely performance of the structured deposit. When past performance of the structured deposit, or that of its underlying financial instruments, is utilised to illustrate possible returns of that structured deposit, it should be noted that past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Exchange rate fluctuations might cause the value of an investment to increase or decrease.

Structured deposits which have risk and investment elements are not conventional deposits and accordingly, are not insured deposits for the purposes of the Deposit Insurance and Policy Owners' Protection Schemes Act 2011 (No 15 of 2011).
